

Gateway Drop-In Final Mount Report

Date: 2026-05-09

Status: PARTIAL GO

Blocker class: OWNER_GATED

Objective

Mount the owner-provided Gateway drop-in design as the production Gateway visual surface without rebuilding, restyling, or changing HTML/CSS/class names.

Result

- The approved 'Gateway-DropIn-v1-FINAL' designer files were copied into the existing Gateway designer asset mount.
- '/gateway/agent-hub' continues to mount 'Agent Hub.html'.
- '/gateway/agent-hub/paperclip' continues to mount 'Paperclip.html'.
- The React frame no longer adds custom wrapper navigation or visual chrome around the designer mock.
- The previous fixed-height clipping behavior remains removed; the frame expands to the mounted document height and allows native vertical scrolling.
- 'shared/agent-data.js' was preserved so 'window.AGENTS' is still hydrated from '/api/gateway/agent-hub/status'.
- 'shared/gateway-data.js' was rehydrated from read-only Gateway APIs:
 - '/api/gateway/nodes'
 - '/api/gateway/status'

CloudCode Package

CloudCode backend-support package: not consumed in this correction.

Reason: this hop was explicitly scoped to mounting the owner-provided drop-in UI as-is and restoring existing read-only data hydration. The CloudCode package remains queued for the next truth-rendering pass where status normalization, breadcrumbs, and route smoke tables can be wired without altering the approved visual contract.

Remaining Blocker

Owner authenticated visual retest is still required before Gateway UI can be marked GO.

Current status remains PARTIAL GO until the owner confirms:

- '/gateway/agent-hub' visually matches the approved drop-in mock.
- Page scroll works naturally.
- Owner is not trapped.
- Agent Hub and Paperclip surfaces remain truthful and navigable.
